Last summer my family went on holiday to Scotland. We went camping near an old castle. People say there's a ghost in the castle. I wanted to see the ghost. I visited the castle every evening. I saw some tourists and I saw some bats. I saw a black cat, but I didn't see a ghost.

It was the last day of the holiday. I wanted to watch the castle all night. I went to the castle. I had my digital camera with me. I waited and waited. Suddenly I saw the ghost! Then it disappeared. I wasn't scared, I was excited. I ran to the campsite. I told my mum about the ghost. "Did you take a photo?", she asked. "No, I didn't." I said. "I think it was your imagination." she said.
